UK to send Stormers to Ukraine

THE UK will send armoured anti-aircraft vehicles to Ukraine to help Kyiv's forces as they face a Russian onslaught in the country's east.

The Stormer vehicle launches Starstreak anti-aircraft missiles, which can target planes and helicopters.

Boris Johnson is speaking to allies including US President Joe Biden to discuss more Western support for Ukraine.

Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky (above) said: "Russian troops have begun the battle for Donbas, for which they have been preparing for a long time."

The supply of the Stormer to Ukraine comes after the UK invited Ukrainian generals to Salisbury Plain earlier this month to see the military kit which could be available to them, including armoured vehicles.

Funky Pigeon hit by cyber attack

FUNKY Pigeon has stopped taking orders after being hit by a cyber attack last week.

The online greetings card and gifts business said it is writing to all customers from the past 12 months to inform them of the hack.

It added that "no customer payment data" is at risk and said it does not believe any customers' account passwords have been affected.

The WH Smith-owned company said it has taken its systems offline "as a precaution" and is therefore unable to fulfil any orders.

DID DUBAI HACK No 10 PHONES?

POWERFUL spyware linked to a United Arab Emirates operator – which could have allowed 24-hour surveillance of messages, photos and calls – was found on a device connected to Number 10's network, it has been claimed.

The alarming cyber security breach is said to have occurred on 7 July 2020, almost a year into Boris Johnson's time as Prime Minister.

According to researchers, the Israeli-created spyware, known as Pegasus, was also suspected to have infected phones connected to the Foreign Office on at least five occasions between July 2020 and June last year.

SPYING LINK? No10 and UAE PM Mohammed Al Maktoum

These were linked to operators in the UAE, India, Cyprus and Jordan. The influencer city of Dubai is part of the UAE. The infection of a Number 10 device was revealed by an investigative journalist working for the New Yorker magazine.

They reported that several phones were tested at Downing Street, including the PM's, but that officials from Britain's National Cyber Security Centre were unable to locate the infected device and the nature of any data that may have been stolen was never determined.

"When we found the No10 case, my jaw dropped," John Scott-Railton, a senior researcher at the Citizen Lab centre at the University of Toronto, told the magazine. Pegasus was developed by the Israeli company NSO Group and is known to have the capability to infect billions of phones running either iOS or Android operating systems.

Once Pegasus is on a person's device, it can copy messages that are sent or received, harvest photos, record phone calls, or even secretly film the user through the phone's camera, or record conversations by activating the microphone.

It could also potentially be used to pinpoint where someone is, where they've been, or who they've met.

Rees-Mogg: Get back in the office!

CIVIL servants must stop working from home and return to the office to ensure government buildings are at full capacity, ministers have been told.

Cabinet Office minister Jacob Rees-Mogg has written to cabinet colleagues urging them to send a "clear message" to the civil service about returning.

The government efficiencies minister said there was "much further to go" to reach pre-pandemic levels.

Average daily attendance in the week of April 4 was 44%, figures show.

The government's recommendation for people to work from home ended in January, after being reintroduced in the face of the emergence of the Omicron variant of COVID last year.

In a letter to the heads of government departments dated April 13, Mr Rees-Mogg (above) urged cabinet ministers to "review any guidance within your departments that sets an expectation of the minimum number of days in the office per week."

1m train ticket prices slashed

TRAIN tickets are set to be slashed by as much as half as the government looks to address cost-of-living pressures with cheaper travel.

In what is being dubbed the Great British Rail Sale, Transport Secretary Grant Shapps said more than one million train tickets would be reduced this spring.

The Department for Transport (DfT) is hoping the move will help hard-pressed households, facing rising bills and soaring inflation, to afford trips across the UK and boost domestic tourism.

The sale is expected to bring some Manchester to Newcastle journeys down to a little over £10, while seats on some London to Edinburgh services will be slashed from £44 to £22.

FINED: Mrs Johnson and Rishi Sunak hold the PM to account, such as a censure motion, effectively a slap on the wrist, or a vote of no confidence.

But shadow attorney general Emily Thornberry said a coup by Tory MPs was needed to remove Mr Johnson.

Sanctioned

She told BBC Radio 4's Today programme: "Whatever means we take, the difficulty we will always have is that, since the 2019 election, the Conservatives have an 80-seat majority when there is a vote."

"Unless Conservative MPs can look at their consciences and vote the right way, we are not going to get the sort of result that we should get."

Mr Johnson became the first serving UK prime minister to be sanctioned for breaking the law when, along with his wife Carrie and Chancellor Rishi Sunak, he was fined last week for attending the birthday event held for him in the Cabinet Room in June 2020.

DAFT C**TS! Prodnoses ban midwives from saying 'vagina'

MIDWIVES have been discouraged from saying 'vagina' when dealing with pregnant transgender patients if they dislike the terminology.

The guidance has been introduced by health chiefs in Sussex as part of their policy on perinatal care – previously known as maternity services – for transgender and non-binary people.

Last month it emerged that the same trust had begun a policy in which staff were told the phrase breast milk could be replaced with 'human milk', 'breast/chest milk' or 'milk from the feeding mother or parent'.

In the care guide from Brighton and Sussex University Hospitals NHS Trust, midwives and obstetricians are told: "Some individuals may have preferred terminology for their anatomy. These should be used wherever possible."

"For example, some people may talk about 'front hole' or 'genital opening' rather than 'vagina'."

Staff are encouraged to record these requested terms on a document called 'My Language Preferences'.

The guidelines add that maternity care has typically been designed as a 'women-only service' which may not serve the needs of 'trans' and 'non-binary' individuals who identify as neither male or female.

SHE was always an oasis of fresh-faced beauty on the grim cobbles of Coronation Street...

And Michelle Keegan looked sensational as she went makeup free for a stunning mirror photo in the gym on Sunday.

The actress, 34, displayed her incredibly taut figure on her Instagram Story in only a busty sports bra and form-fitting khaki leggings.

The Our Girl star gave her followers a glimpse into her daily routine, kicking things off with a workout in her home gym.

Puckered

Showing off the results of her gym session, she sat on a yoga matt and stretched one leg over the other.

Michelle later took to the wine aisle of her local supermarket and penned: 'If you know, you know and @emmyclarke100 certainly now knows!' as she picked up a bottle of her favorite Chardonnay.

But when the lovely, clean, innocent snaps were published on the website of the hate-filled Daily Mail, some lust-crazed readers merely fixated on Michelle's clean, puckered BUMHOLE. And more than one speculated they'd like to indulge in "bum sex" with the star, by inserting their erect COCKS into her nipsy.

Reader April 15 1989 drooled: 'Would SMASH that brown star' – 'brown star' being a crude euphemism for a lady's rear privacy.

Last night a pal of the beauty said: 'Poor Michelle can't post one photo without people fantasising about bumming her. Up the arse.'

Murder rap for cannibal who ate victim, 70

A CANNIBAL who murdered a 70-year-old man and then microwaved and ate part of his victim's remains is mentally fit to proceed to trial, a judge has ruled.

James Russell, 40, is charged with first-degree murder and cannibalism.

Law enforcement authorities said they believe the cannibalism charge may be the first of its kind in Idaho since the state banned the practice more than three decades ago.

In September last year, cops were called to a home north of Boise, where they found David Flaget "unresponsive inside a vehicle".

Russell was allegedly living on the property and the authorities said they found an "indication that he had been involved" with Flaget's death.

An evaluation determined Russell was "deemed mentally fit to stand trial".

But now the arseless leather trews have become hot fashion items for the birds too.

As the achingly-cool fashion website Hypebae explained in a recent article: "The item was originally created in the 1800s to protect cowboys' legs while riding horseback on Texas' rough terrain. It held a number of different names, but at this point in the garment's history it was solely worn for protection and the occasional 'machismo' flex at the local rodeo."

Since then they've been adopted by fashionistas and were worn by sexpot Christina Aguilera at the height of her Noughties fame.

Juror a big fan of Kim sex video

THE Kardashian clan were less than thrilled to hear about Kim Kardashian's sex tape scandal during jury selection for the family's pending court clash with Blac Chyna.

Kardashian-Jenner attorney Michael Rhodes asked a group of potential jurors at the LA Court if they had strong positive or negative feelings to reality television.

One potential juror, a man in his 50s, claimed he'd never watched Keeping Up with the Kardashians but noted, "I have watched Kim Kardashian's sex tape, and I don't think I can be impartial."

The response elicited a roar of laughter from the other jurors. After that remark, Khloé Kardashian, 37, was seen fixing Kim's long, dark locks – as if to comfort her sister.

Kris Jenner, 66, then shook her head after the man told the judge it would be difficult for him to serve as a juror because he would be "replaying that sex tape over and over again" in his head.

Four injured in wrong-way M1 car crash

FOUR people have been seriously injured after a car which failed to stop for police entered the motorway in the wrong direction and crashed head-on into another vehicle.

The "very serious collision" brought traffic on the M1 to a halt in West Yorkshire.

Police say a black Skoda Fabia was driving south in the northbound carriageway and hit a blue BMW 320.

A spokesperson for the West Yorkshire force said: "The Skoda had failed to stop for police and went on to enter the northbound M1 in the opposite direction."

The crash happened between junctions 39 and 40, near Wakefield.

Police said the three occupants of the Skoda have all suffered serious or life-threatening injuries.

ACTRESS Karrueche Tran put on a sizzling display at the Coachella music festival.

The 33-year-old wore a frock that showed off her perky boobs.

One onlooker said: "I have to be honest, I was not aware of her work until this but now I'll be taking a close interest..."

GOOD Morning Britain viewers were up in arms yesterday as telly favourite Richard Madeley was once again a no-show on the breakfast TV programme.

Fan of the host are concerned that Richard is being edged out by bosses, concerned at criticism by "woke" viewers on social media.

Madeley angers PC types who accuse him of forcibly questioning climate protesters and he is often compared to spook telly host Alan Partridge.

Yesterday Madeley and Susanna Reid were again replaced by Adil Ray and Kate Garraway.

His supporters were upset to see him missing from their screens, with one asking on Twitter: "Richardm56 where are you? You're my favourite @GMB presenter."

Slammed

Madeley says he isn't sure about his future on the popular ITV show.

The comment came following the backlash he faced after an interview he conducted about an oil protest which was slammed as "patronising".

In a new interview the star, 65, spoke about working with his wife Judy Finnigan on their projects and running their Book Club.

Richard candidly admitted he isn't sure how long he'll last on the morning show. He said: "What I do on my own at the moment is Good Morning Britain, though who knows how long that'll go on for.

"I'm doing it month to month at the moment and I'm very happy to."

"I quite like operating at that level, I've had my main career curve," he revealed.

Richard went on: "I'm not seeking some huge career arc... we'll see what happens."

"But I enjoy it, I enjoy doing it."

On Monday, sitting in Madeley's seat, Citizen Khan star Adil Ray left MP Greg Hands baffled when he asked about whether Jesus would be deported from the UK in modern times.

The Minister was quizzed on plans to send asylum seekers to Rwanda.

Ray said: "Under this scheme, if he arrived in the UK, Jesus would be sent to Rwanda."

Mr Hands concluded:

"I'm sorry, I think it's a ludicrous question."

Murder probe after flats fall

A MAN has been arrested on suspicion of murder after a woman died after a fall at a block of flats in Bristol.

Emergency services were called to Lansdowne Court in Easton at 12.30am on Tuesday.

The woman was found at the bottom of the block of flats with serious injuries consistent with a fall from height, Avon and Somerset Police said. She was pronounced dead at the scene, the force said.

A 43-year-old man who was known to the victim has been arrested on suspicion of murder.

Chief Inspector Deepak Kent said: "An investigation has begun to establish how and why this terrible incident happened. We can confirm the arrested man and the woman who died were known to each other."

Eunice, 87, wants nude painting back

AN 87-YEAR-OLD woman is appealing to the public to get her nude painting back after it was sold in a garage sale.

Eunice Jeffers and her husband Robert, who live in Whanganui, New Zealand, were newlyweds in Canada when the painting was done in the late 1950s.

"The painting is of myself. It was painted 63 years ago by an English artist and he gave it to us a short time later," Mrs Jeffers said.

The artist was F. John Miller, a noted artist, painter and professor emeritus at Concordia University in Montreal.

He died in 2015.

Mrs Jeffers gave the painting to her eldest daughter as a gift.

Her daughter had a garage sale a couple of years ago and it's thought the painting was inadvertently sold.

At the time, her daughter moved some possessions into storage and it was only last Christmas that the family realised the painting was no longer there.

Dildo store workers in fur a shock

WORKERS at a dildo shop were left baffled after being left an unexpected furry gift in their car park.

Dozens of guinea pigs were dumped outside the store in Cabell County, West Virginia.

Huntington-Cabell-Wayne Animal Control arrived at the scene to find the guinea pigs roaming around.

Animal control then spent several hours using infrared lasers to track and recapture the animals, with some store staff helping to wrangle the wayward rodents.

Employees at the adult store were also able to supply enough information for cops to track down the couple who left the pets in the car park.

David Caserta, 37, has been accused of taking the guinea pigs while his girlfriend Katrina Hogsett was asleep and dumping them outside the store, before driving away.

Caserta now faces 60 counts of abandoning an animal to die, while Hogsett has been charged with 60 counts of cruelty to animals.

A PRISONER on death row has elected to be executed by firing squad rather than the electric chair at the end of this month... because of the environment!

Richard Moore, 57, became the first prisoner in South Carolina forced to choose his form of capital punishment.

A year-old law made the electric chair the default method but allowed inmates the option to be shot.

Moore (above) has been on death row since his conviction for the 1999 murder of a Spartanburg store clerk.

He is now set to be gunned down by three prison workers with rifles on April 29, officials said.

He would be only the fourth American to be executed by a firing squad since 1976.

It's believed Moore asked to be shot rather than zapped to "reduce his carbon footprint".

PINNED to the wall of Steven Gordon's cell on Death Row at California's San Quentin prison is a handwritten note from his niece.

The words it contains are so shocking that 'Uncle Steve' keeps it as a constant reminder of what he really is – an animal.

Gordon, from the city of Anaheim in Orange Co, California, said: "I got this letter from my niece. I love her more than anything. She asks, 'How could you do that to those women? You're evil. You're disgusting.'

By KOURTNEY KENNEDY
news@sundaysport.co.uk

"I read it periodically, to keep my mind focused. It's pretty bad. I screwed up. What I mean is, it's beyond evil what I did."

"Why should I be able to live for another 20 or 30 years? Those women didn't have that opportunity, so I shouldn't have that opportunity."

Gordon, 48, and his accomplice, Franc Cano, abducted and murdered five innocent women during a 12-month killing spree in 2013 and 2014. One would throttle while the other punched and stamped on their victims until they stopped breathing.

Those victims were Martha Anaya, 28, Josephine Monique Vargas, 34, Jarrae Nykkole Estep, 21, Kianna Jackson, 20, and 19-year-old Sable Alexandria Pickett.

Only one of the bodies has ever been discovered – that of Jarrae Estep. Her mangled remains were found at a rubbish dump.

For Gordon, the act of slaying grew more addictive with each hit, snowballing into a crescendo of carnage.

So much so that when he was finally arrested in April 2014, he openly begged prosecutors to give him the death penalty.

Gordon told them: "You hear about guys sitting 20, 30 years on Death Row. I don't want that. If you kill anybody in that fashion, you deserve the death penalty."

Horrible

"You shouldn't sit around 20 years waiting to die. They should just kill you."

"If you kill four people like this in cold blood, you deserve to die."

"My actions were evil and horrible, and you're gonna get your justice very soon."

But do not mistake his confessions for something deserving of sympathy.

In 1992, Gordon was convicted of molesting a child under the age of 14 – his own nephew.

And 10 years later he was acquitted of raping his own wife but given a kidnapping conviction.

STEVEN Gordon was the perfect apex predator, circling his vulnerable prey before striking viciously and without warning.

It's no wonder the prolific serial killer came to be named after a similarly merciless beast...

KILLERS: Gordon and (inset) Cano

In 2008, Cano secured a conviction for lewd and lascivious acts with a child under 14.

It was while serving time in prison Gordon and Cano first struck up their sick friendship.

In May 2012 the pair were arrested together in Las Vegas after a two-week stay at the Circus Hotel and Casino.

Both were ordered to wear GPS monitoring ankle bracelets and warned not to go near each other.

But soon afterwards, right under the noses of Anaheim Police, they not only met up but set about raping and murdering a slew of victims.

Prosecutor Larry Yellin told jurors that Gordon and Cano were "two incredibly sadistic, cruel, vile people".

As Gordon himself explains: "The first one wasn't planned. Then it just started."

The pair took to hanging out in Gordon's truck, looking for sex workers to pick up.

They would abduct them and take them to a bleak industrial estate behind the Boss Paint & Body car garage, where Gordon worked.

It started with Kianna Jackson. Gordon said he hadn't planned to kill her but became angry when she took his money and tried to leave without finishing a sexual act.

Gordon and Cano grabbed Kianna and took her to the lock-up, where they raped and strangled her before dumping her body in a nearby waste bin.

Gordon knew the bins were due to be emptied the next day and that Kianna would end up in a landfill, lost to the world forever.

She is still there to this day, buried beneath tons of trash.

Shock

During his trial, District Attorney Yellin asked Gordon: "After that, when did you decide you wanted to do it again?"

Gordon replied: "Ten days. I was in shock for the first four."

"Did I kill because I liked it? I wouldn't say I liked it. It was the anger."

He went on to describe how the women screamed and cried in the truck on the way to their demise, but always stopped by the time they arrived. He remarked: "When they realise they ain't getting out, it's better to calm down."

The sick duo also exchanged a series of lurid texts, urging each other to kill.

Referring to the women as 'kitties', the pair discussed one of the murders, with Gordon saying: "Kitty goes to sleep. She can't leave."

Cano, meanwhile, pleaded with Gordon to wash one of the bodies in order to rid it of their DNA.

He texted: "Get some water so that cat can take a hot shower – it might walk with seven lives."

The pair finally slipped up with the killing of Jarrae Estep, their final victim. Gordon insists he never wanted to kill her, having lost his nerve.

He described watching

Cano strangle her to death, before adding: "I bent down when Cano wasn't looking, and I kissed her on the lips and said, 'I'm so sorry,' Estepp, though, then suddenly started moving. It was a struggle for life that Cano tried to snuff out by repeatedly stomping on her.

Contorted

The pair disposed of the body in the usual way – dumping it in the bin next door.

Only this time, it was spotted by a worker at a recycling plant where the compacted trash ended up.

It was so contorted that the worker initially thought it might have been a mannequin or theatrical prop.

The legs were bent at impossible angles, bones protruding through the skin like shards of glass.

But on closer inspection, the grisly truth was revealed.

Estepp's skull was crushed so badly that investigators couldn't positively identify her from her driver's licence photo, instead having to rely on tattoos and fingerprints.

But the most horrific detail revealed at the autopsy was the fact that it was very possible Estepp was still alive when she was placed in the wheelie bin, before then being lifted into the lorry and crushed.

Officers checked the location of the recycling plant for any known convicts who might have been in the area.

The GPS trackers on Cano and Gordon's ankles put them both clearly in the frame.

They were arrested on April 11, 2014 – and Gordon quickly spilled the beans about the entire sorry saga.

When their separate trials got under way, prosecutor Yellin told the jury: "The film Jaws is about a predator. This case is about two."

"You are about to see the hunt."

"They formed a very efficient killing and evidence-hiding machine."

During his trial, Gordon taunted probation officers, asking them why they weren't checking and comparing the GPS data they were supposed to be logging.

Gordon, who represented himself in court, probed Manuel Ontiveros, a federal probation officer, needling: "Do you ever review the data logs?" Ontiveros replied: "I didn't see a need."

Gordon spat back: "Well, I bet you do now!"

On December 21, 2016, Cano was handed a death penalty, having refused to testify.

Gordon was given the same fate on February 6 this year.

Shattered

He told his victims' family members: "I'm sorry for everything."

"But these are hollow words compared to what those women went through."

"I truly am sorry. I know that doesn't mean anything, but I'm sorry."

Kathy Menzies, Kianna's mum, described how the crime had shattered her once-loving family.

She wept: "Now there will always be a part of our family missing."

Meanwhile, Herlinda Salcedo, the mother of Martha Anaya, described the nightmare she faces, having to tell Martha's own kids what became of their poor mother.

Herlinda sobbed: "My daughter was everything to me."

"Every day when her children ask about their mum, I tell them she is just another star in the sky."

"We have to forgive. 'Not because they deserve our forgiveness, but because we need peace.'

MONSTER STUFFED HIS GRAN IN THE FREEZER

BROKE BONES: Tincher

Grandson kept corpse 'for months' cops say

A MAN who killed his gran by packing her in a freezer and breaking her bones told cops how much they loved each other.

Robert Tincher III allegedly lived with the frozen corpse of 82-year-old Doris Cumming for months before police made the grisly discovery at their home in Armuchee, Georgia.

It's believed the grandmother hurt herself in a fall and Tincher then dragged her through the home they shared.

He "heard and saw numerous bones break", then wrapped her in plastic bags and stuffed her into the freezer while still alive.

Threats

"From what we determined, at the time he believed she was still breathing and had some movement at the time she was going into the freezer," Floyd County Investigator Brittany Werner said.

The charges say Tincher "acknowledged her back broke going into the freezer" and there was "no altercation or provocation" leading up to the acts.

By SUZIE SHELDON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Tincher continued living in the home with the body inside the freezer for months but moved it to a storage unit in March, fearing it might be found.

Werner said Tincher told cops he didn't call 911 because he was wanted for arrest in relation to terroristic threats made in 2018 against his wife.

Bizarrely, Tincher told investigators how much he loved his gran.

"He said she was the only family member that gave him the courtesy and love and attention he needed," Werner said.

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

Insomnia + Deacon Blue +
seagulls = HELL!

LIVING by the sea has many advantages.

Seagulls are most definitely not one of them.

You know you're buggered when they start crying before you've even managed a wink of sleep.

"Keep away from our chicks," they're saying.

"Keep away."

But that was only when dawn broke on Tuesday morning.

The rest of the night's restlessness was thanks to something else entirely.

A bastard, bastard earworm.

Scottish 1980s band Deacon Blue warbling the opening lines to I'll Never Fall in Love Again over and over and over again.

I'd gone to bed around midnight so tired it felt like as though sleep might actually swallow me whole.

Head squashed into the pillow, eyes unable to stay open, awaiting the sweet embrace of unconsciousness.

But what it is meant by being "overtired" is true.

You can get to a state of exhaustion where you're even too tired to fall asleep.

Earworm

"What do you get, when you fall in love," wrote Burt Bacharach way back when, before it was covered by all sorts of people.

Don't ask me what comes next, though, because the earworm didn't get that far.

Even now, almost eight hours later, it's still there, repeating itself deep inside my knackered grey matter.

Googling it, the advice was to try not to listen to any tunes before you go to bed.

Only I hadn't been listening to any music at all.

I'd been watching an old horror film, The Thing, about a deadly alien buried deep in the Antarctic ice.

No little ditties in that one, rest assured.

"What do you get...."

Argh!

I make the schoolboy error of checking my phone.

Now it's 1am and Deacon Blue are still giving it a good go.

"...when you fall in love."

I lie on my back, then my front, then

TWATS: Deacon Blue kept me up my left, my right. Get up, for a wee I don't need, fetch a glass of water, go back to bed.

Decide to read, so pick up the phone again reckoning a chapter or two will be enough to send me off.

Then it's 2am, and the song is still singing.

What if I can't sleep?

What if I literally can't go to sleep tonight?

I'm so tired I could weep but the thought doesn't encourage my brain to switch off.

Now it's gone 3am.

"What do you get...."

The phone has long been off, and I'm not even thinking about the story.

Because there is only one sound, one beat of the insomnia drum, that is bouncing back and forth across my skull.

4am.

5am.

It's starting to get light, or lighter. I know this because despite trying to keep my eyes closed, I can't.

The slivers of light find their way in like tendrils.

"What do you get...."

Then the seagulls start to wake up. "Keep away..." they warn.

While the music rumbles on in the background.

More tossing. More turning.

Still nothing.

7am. There is now no point in even trying.

So I get up, find the laptop, and start writing this.

"...when you fall in love..."

The worst thing?

I'd never liked the bloody song in the first place.

SUSSEX

I LOVE a spot of bum fun! I can't get enough of anal – I prefer it to normal sex!

I'm lucky in that I'm able to orgasm when penetrated in my butt hole.

I only first tried it a few years ago. I thought it was a bit yuk initially. But then I learnt to relax and I realised how pleasurable it is.

I like a finger up there too... I like it to start off slow and lots and lots of lube user on me.

Being teased drives me wild and eventually I beg for a cock up there!

I also like a vibrating butt plug up there.

Using one of those first means it won't take me long to climax when I'm penetrated.

I'm also a fan of being licked in my arse... and I'm willing to rim my fella in return if he's into that too.

Most guys I've had anal with say I'm really tight there. It's a treat for everyone!

Bloody hell at memorial to Holocaust

A MANIAC is accused of cutting his arm open and defacing a Holocaust memorial using his own blood.

Christopher Green, 44, was seen by several witnesses digging into his left forearm before smearing his blood all over the wall of The Holocaust Memorial of the Greater Miami Jewish Federation in Miami, Florida.

Green (above), who is homeless, "wrote numerous letters of the alphabet in his blood", cops said.

The letters he wrote did not spell anything readable.

Green was arrested and charged with one count of criminal mischief on a place of worship.

The memorial opened in 1984 after a group of Holocaust survivors came together to create a permanent memorial in the city, according to the memorial website.

Green has appeared in court, where he was ordered to stay away from the memorial and the area of the memorial.

He is being held in the county lockup.

Pet dogs shot and dumped on train track

TWO dogs have been found shot to death and one of the animals was reportedly decapitated.

Adrienne Madison said her dog Murphy and her neighbour's dog Diva were found shot dead on a railway track after escaping through a hole in her property's fence.

Murphy, which Madison had adopted from a pet shelter, was found decapitated at the scene in Montgomery County, Texas.

It appears the dogs weren't killed on the train tracks but dumped there after being shot.

"We don't know why somebody would do something like that," Madison said.

"To me, a person who would commit something that brutal to an innocent animal probably doesn't have much regard for human life either."

WATER POLO MISS MADE TEEN SPUNK IN HIS TRUNKS

Teacher nicked for 'lewd acts'

EXPLICIT PHOTOS:
Quinonez (right) and (below) after her arrest

A WATER polo coach slipped her hands into a hunky teen's swimming trunks and masturbated his iron-hard cock until he gushed hot, sticky SPUNK, cops believe.

Amanda Quinonez, 30, faces charges of indecent behaviour with the underaged male student after she was arrested.

Quinonez, 30, worked as an English-language arts teacher, as well as the swimming and water polo coach at Eleanor Roosevelt High School in East Vale, California.

Riverside County Sheriff's Department investigators responded to the school regarding allegations Quinonez 'committed lewd acts' with a male student.

Harassing

They discovered that Quinonez also sent explicit photos of a 'sexual nature' to the student.

Quinonez remains locked up at the Robert Presley Detention Center in Riverside.

Roosevelt High School principal Dr Greg Anderson said the Corona-Norco School District and the school have a zero-tolerance policy for behaviour that endangers students.

Quinonez's job status following the arrest was not disclosed. She is still listed on the school's staff directory.

This is the second time in recent years the southern California school has faced a scandal over sexual misconduct from a coach and teacher.

In 2019, Joe Robles Jr., a then-36-year-old cross country and track coach, was charged with sexually assaulting and harassing female students.

He has since been convicted, according to attorneys.

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page

Dear Tess,

I MET this gorgeous blonde in her early 30s at a bar a few months ago and we really hit it off.

I'm 19 and find older women really attractive and she noticed the almost instant bulge in my pants.

We went back to her place and she wasted no time getting her kit off to reveal her cracking body.

I stripped and started to suck on her 34Ds. She then sucked me off to completion.

After that she lay down on the bed and I peeled off her wet knickers and feasted on her pussy juice. She loved it as I tongued her clit.

By then I was rock-hard again and she ordered me to bone her doggy-style. I soon had her orgasm.

I've seen her a number of times since and really like her, but she's told me she only wants sex. What can I do?

JB, Norfolk

Tess says...

ENJOY the sex or find a girl your own age.

Dear Tess,

IN the last six months my formerly frigid wife has turned into an absolute sex maniac.

I don't know how or why, but I'm not complaining. She even likes it when I wear her stockings and suspenders while I give her one.

And when she mentioned she'd like to try anal sex for the first time a few weeks back, I was well up for it.

So after lots and lots of foreplay – using some lube on my gentle fingers around her ringpiece – I got her on all fours and started teasing her arse with my cock.

But then she suddenly told me to stop. She explained she wanted to take ME up the arse instead and reached under the bed for a huge black strap-on dildo.

I told her to f**k off – but she's not let me near her since.

What can I do?

KD, Devon

Tess says...

BE patient. If she's really turned into a nympho, she'll soon be begging you for some action.

I gave boss a hard time – now she's giving me a harder time!

Dear Tess,

I'VE fancied my boss at work for ages. She's 42 and a cracking blonde with huge tits.

I'd never really had the chance to do anything about it – until my big opportunity finally came last Christmas.

She told me I needed to go with her to a meeting at head office, which meant quite a long drive and we would be staying the night at a hotel.

We headed for the bar, as the firm was paying, and as she got more pissed she started opening up to me about her sex life.

She told me what she and her boyfriend got up to and I was soon rock-hard.

We went back to my room after a long, boozy session and then emptied the mini-bar as well.

She told me she wanted me to f**k her hard and then took off her blouse and skirt.

I soon had her knickers off and my tongue in her hole-hole.

After making her juices explode, I launched my knob into her.

At the moment of orgasm, she promised me promotion.

We've been back at work a while now, but not once has she referred to it.

What should I do?

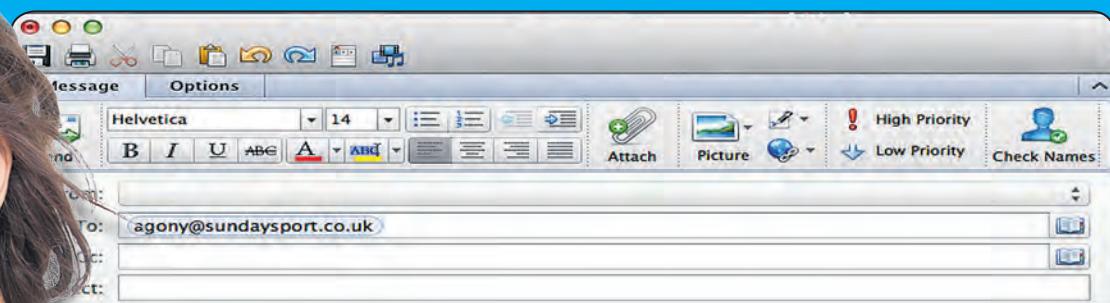

AJ, Manchester

Tess says...

I'd think twice about complaining, as she would probably sack you.

Steamy sex tapes are all I have left of ex

Dear Tess,

MY fiancée and I split up recently after being together for a couple of years.

We had an adventurous sex life and loved trying all sorts of different positions and adult toys.

And we made some really explicit homemade sex tapes together.

One time we set up the HD cam at the bottom of the bed and got stripped.

I started licking her pussy and sucking at her clitoris. Then I sucked her rock-hard nipples until she was almost screaming at me to f***k her.

Spurt

But I made her climax with my mouth before she got onto her hands and knees and gave me a hard, fast blowjob.

She traced her tongue around my helmet and gave me a deep throat gobble – it was fantastic.

I didn't want to spurt my load too soon, so I entered her and she swung her legs over my shoulders.

Several thrusts later we both came and were shouting and screaming the place down.

After a few glasses of wine, we were ready to go again and set the camera to record again.

She was soon straddling me and I thrust my knob in her. She bobbed up and down on me as I tweaked her erect nips.

Then she demanded I gave it to her doggy-style until we both came.

Our session lasted more than an hour and we had it all recorded.

But later that month, we had a huge row and she walked out on me and moved all her stuff out.

Now she wants me to destroy the sex tapes, but it turns me on to watch them and now I'm on my own they are all I have to wank over.

Do you think I need to pass them on to her or should I keep hold of them?

RD, west Midlands

Tess says...

GET rid... or they might come back to haunt both of you.

Dear Tess,

I ABSOLUTELY love the smell of pussy first thing in the morning.

Every single day I get the wife to wake me up by sitting on my face to give her a good licking.

I always get my tongue right into her love-hole while I play with her clitty and finger her bum.

She then returns the favour by giving me an expert blowjob before I take her doggy-style.

Problem is, she now wants to wake me up by sucking on my cock first and I'm just not happy about it.

What should I do?

FK, Teesside

Tess says...

ARE you for real?

Dear Tess,

ME and the missus used to enjoy what we called a "normal" sex-life.

I was the dominant one and she loved acting submissive.

She would dress up for me and play the slave to my strict master and dutifully obey my orders.

I made the most of it and would have her sucking my cock as often as I wanted.

But sadly, that's all changed.

She now works full-time as an accountant and earns quite a bit of dosh.

This means we're quite well-off, despite the fact that I was made redundant a few months ago.

This is where everything turned to rat shit for me.

Because once my wife knew I had plenty of time on my hands, she started to lay down the law at home – and now SHE'S the dominant one.

First, she made a list of my household duties.

And incredibly, she also came up with a list of SEXUAL SERVICES that she demands I perform to order.

I have to tease her fanny before going to work on her clit with my tongue.

Then, after a bit of a nap, she demands oral sex all over again – AND a good shafting to boot!

This is leaving me a mental and physical wreck. What can I do?

DM, Glasgow

Tess says...

STOP being her bitch!

My snake charmer is now HISStory!

Dear Tess,

I WORK in a pet shop and the week before we went into lockdown a man came in just as I was closing up.

He said he was interested in buying a large, exotic snake. But after a while it was HIS snake that I started to show an interest in!

I noticed a bulge developing in his trousers as he seemed to be getting more and more turned on by my sales patter.

I was getting a bit excited myself, so I told him the best thing to do would be for me to show him a few reptiles.

I led him to my back room, but I had in mind.

Thrusting

As soon as I'd closed the door behind us, he unzipped his pants and brought out the most amazing trouser-snake I've ever seen.

It must have been at least 10 inches long and a good three inches in girth.

I bent over a table and he was soon thrusting away at me with his monster cock.

I could feel an orgasm welling up inside me as he pounded away and I let out a squeal of delight as my dam burst.

He promised he'd come back the next day to pick up his pet snake – but he never returned.

Do you think I put him off by making myself such an easy lay?

HG, east Yorkshire

Tess says...

He sounds like a bit of a slippery character.

CURVY Czech stunner Cikita is saving up for her own JACUZZI – to enjoy more kinky nights in the tub.

Cikita revealed she's enjoyed plenty of steamy, soapy shagging sessions in the past and is busy saving so she can do it at home.

The 34E beauty said: "I've had sex a couple of times in hot tubs – either on skiing holidays or during a wild party at a posh house.

"One time, at a friend's birthday party, I got carried away with my boyfriend and I could see that we were in full view of the neighbours!

"I saw the curtains twitch next door, but we were too far gone to stop.

"I'm quite an exhibitionist at heart and I really like the idea of getting caught – or someone else watching me having sex.

"I've already started saving up for my very own Jacuzzi. I want a nice big one so I can hold a sexy hot tub party."

IT'S finally time to say goodbye to the creepy Crawleys of Downton Abbey and hello to the horny hotties of buxom Bottomley Manor!

For all you red-blooded fellas who love your porn but are bored to tears by dull Downton Abbey this is your lucky day.

Released last week, the UK's most highly anticipated adult movie is available exclusively through the Sport's adult partner Private Shops and, for a limited time they're offering readers another £5 OFF the already low, low price.

Down On Abby is a big budget, full length adult masterpiece starring porn legend Ben Dover and a cast of the hottest adult stars around. It will transport you to Bottomley Manor, home to the Lord Grabhem (played by Ben Dover), his wife (and 2014 AVN nominee) Jasmine Jae, and their two young promiscuous step-daughters, Abby and Fanny.

The Grabhems have invited the Stiffies to dinner and their staff, led by butler Smallie*** and footman Master Bates, hurriedly prepare to receive their honoured guests.

But during preparations some members of staff have their own ideas of how to make the night go with a bang! As dinner approaches it seems everyone's got more than fancy nosh on their minds. Mind you, there is plenty of noshing as well as lots of other filth that will even cause a crease in Carson's keks.

We see plenty of R18 DVDS at the Sport but this one is really something special and one you MUST not miss!

This future classic stars Ava Dalush as Missy, Cathy Heaven as Lucy, Emma Leigh as Betty, Jasmine Jae as Lady Wanda Grabhem, Jasmine James as Fanny Grabhem, Jess West as Lady Stiffie, Lexi Lowe as Abby Grabhem, Ben Dover as Lord Will Grabhem, Big Bad Dave as Smithers and Clarke Kent as Master Bates.

OFF TARGET: Mo Salah

Klopp backs Salah to bang in the goals again

JURGEN Klopp says he's not remotely worried about Mo Salah's focus as the season reaches squeaky bum time.

The Egyptian is still heading the Premier League scorers table despite hitting the target just once in 12 appearances for club and country heading into last night's clash with Manchester United.

Many pundits believe he has been unsettled by contract talks that don't seem to be making any progress.

Klopp reckons it's just the kind of blip any forward goes through and Salah has still been making big contributions other than putting the ball in the back of the net.

The German said: "It's a completely normal spell he is going through.

"We've spoken about the physical demands. I liked the game against Man City a lot, it was a really good football game, and it's only a question of time before he scores again.

"He's been close enough a couple of times and the moment will definitely come. I am really happy with the performance he showed a few days ago."

Klopp says the subject of Salah's contract is not something that comes up in training.

He added: "We have had plenty of talks over the time we have worked together and at this specific moment there is no need to talk about the situation.

"Just the normal stuff about what he has to do in the game and all these kind of things."

With all the talk about Salah, Sadio Mane's contract situation has gone under the radar.

The Senegal forward is also coming to the final 12 months of his deal but hasn't had the same focus.

Klopp wants him to stay – and think Mane could play at the top level well into his 30s.

The German said: "The quality of Sadio we don't really have to talk about, because it's absolutely incredible.

"Obviously what happened in the last two months for him was a boost, that is clear, and I am really happy for him. All the rest, we will see."

IT'S SQUEAKY BUM TIME IN THE WE HAVE TO BE UP FOUR IT!

Spurs skipper Lloris rallies his troops after their shock setback against the Seagulls

HUGO LLORIS fears Spurs have BLOWN their chances of finishing in the top four this season.

Tottenham were on a cracking run that saw them climb from eighth to fourth thanks to six wins in their past seven Premier League games.

But they copped a shock home defeat to Brighton at the weekend that threatens to put a spanner in the works.

Grip

Coming out of the weekend, Spurs were still in the final qualifying spot for the Champions League – but the gap would have been six points rather than just three if they had seen off the Seagulls.

Now the Spurs skipper is calling on his team-mates to get a grip and make sure they hold on to fourth with just six games of the season remaining.

Lloris insists that it will take a mighty effort – as the Londoners have to play Liverpool and Arsenal after a trick derby match away to in-form Brentford.

The French keeper said: "We don't have a cushion so we have to go on another run."

"But we must take it game by game because if we look too far forward, we can slip in other games."

"What hurts me the most is, we have suffered so much, and to arrive in this position, it is not the moment to throw away what we have built in the last few weeks."

"We received a lot of kicks during the season and it is not the time to give this boost to our rivals. We have a week to prepare for the next game and I hope this defeat will help the team to finish stronger."

Lloris knows that Tottenham could be level on points with their main top-four rivals by the time they kick off at Brentford on Saturday.

And he is looking for a major response from his team-mates against the Bees.

Lloris added: "We bounce back by winning."

Pressure

"In training we'll prepare as best we can to give us a chance to win, but it is going to be a tough game especially at this period of the season when teams like Brighton are already safe and play with that freedom and without the pressure of the result."

"Mentally we have to increase the level of focus. Sometimes you can have a lack of energy for various reasons, but keeping the focus is so important."

"Look at how we conceded the goal, it is all about focus and concentration. It is never too late to learn."

Harry Kane has come in for stick after attending the US Masters in Georgia in the days before the Brighton game.

Obviously the England skipper didn't fly economy class and have to stand in a security line for four hours at Heathrow.

But many have questioned whether his Transatlantic jaunt may be the reason why he was off the pace against Brighton.

One Spurs insider says Kane was a bit "bleary-eyed" when he returned to training on Tuesday morning.

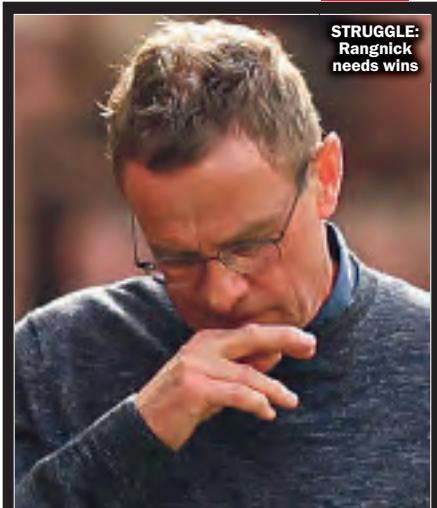

Former England striker Gabby Agbonlahor says the Tottenham hitman played as though he was still suffering from jet lag.

He said: "I think little things

STRUGGLE:
Rangnick
needs wins

Ralf: Top four finish is still in our hands

By ANDY MILLOM

MANCHESTER United interim boss Ralf Rangnick admits his team have to win pretty much all their remaining games to make the top four.

It's vital for the Red Devils to play in the Champions League next season as their new manager – likely to be Ajax's Erik Ten Hag – seeks to rebuild a misfiring squad.

But the fixture list isn't looking too kind for United. After last night's trip to Liverpool they also have to face Arsenal and Chelsea in a tough run-in.

Things weren't made any easier when the clash against Chelsea was moved from FA Cup final day on May 15 to April 28.

That means the Reds will have played Liverpool, Arsenal and the Blues in a punishing run inside ten days.

Rangnick is doing his best to put a brave face on the fixture list.

He said: "It is still up to us.

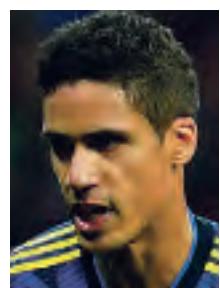

"After the latest results we are still in the race for fourth, but to stay in it we have to win almost every game."

"We might be the underdogs for most people but if we raise our level we have a chance.

"You can see other teams are dropping points at the weekend.

"It's again about being consistent and at the end the team will probably finish fourth that is most committed to that.

"We need to be more compact and find a better balance of what we can do in possession of the ball."

CROCKED: Varane

"We need to be more aggressive, more on the front foot but make sure we have all the players behind the ball."

"This is what we need to show against one of the best teams in producing chances and creating moments around the box."

"We need to be on our very best defensively."

Several injuries to key players aren't helping United's cause.

Edinson Cavani, Luke Shaw, Raphael Varane, Scott McTominay and Fred are all on the sidelines at this crucial time.

Rangnick said: "We lost a few other players and right now we have a few injury problems with important players who should normally be in the starting XI."

"It is no excuse or alibi, things that happen. This is also an issue that worries me a bit – the number of injuries that we currently have."

matter. If you're Harry Kane for instance, I'm his biggest fan, but if you're flying after the Aston Villa game to The Masters, doing that travelling and coming back, and then putting in that performance, questions have to be asked on Harry Kane.

"Was that the right thing for him to go and do? Because they were toothless going forward Spurs, no shots on target."

Lose

"Every time they seem to get a little bit of an edge against Arsenal and Manchester United, they throw it away. 100 per cent he would have had approval, but the way he played, it seemed like he was jet-lagged, it wasn't the Harry Kane we're used to seeing."

"And every time they seem to get a lead in this race for top four, they keep letting Manchester United back into it, especially Arsenal as well."

"So as much as we keep looking at fixtures and what the results are going to be, these teams look like they could lose any game, any week."

Paul Merson reckons it will go right down to the wire.

He said: "Arsenal and Tottenham weren't going to win their last eight games each."

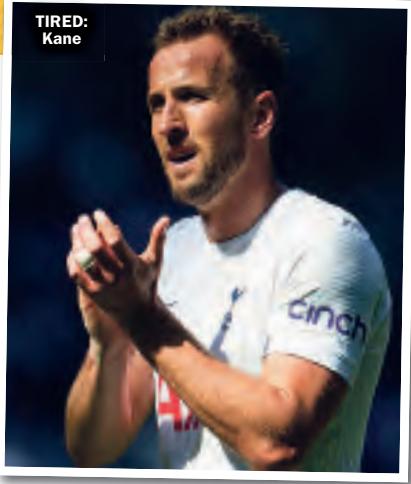

"They weren't and they aren't good enough to win their last eight games each."

"Whoever won that Man City-Liverpool game, you could see them reeling off the next seven wins. You were never going to see that with Arsenal or Tottenham."

"Brighton had a play. Sat back and counter-attacked – there is still a long way to go."

"I still think Tottenham are favourites to get into the top four."

£130M FOR HAALAND

And that's just his WAGES at Man City

MANCHESTER City will pay Erling Haaland a staggering £130m just in wages to play for them.

The Borussia Dortmund star is on his way to the Etihad after Blues boss Pep Guardiola decided to trigger his release clause. That means they will pay the relatively modest sum of £63m for the 21-year-old.

By JOHN ANTHONY

But that figure will be dwarfed by the wages the Norwegian will be paid.

City are offering him £500,000 a week to sign on the dotted line.

Over a five-year deal that adds up to the small matter of £130 MILLION!

And that doesn't include signing-on fees and agents commission.

It means City will be forking out more than £200m just on one player.

Despite spending more than a billion quid since taking over at the club, Guardiola has just one out and out striker in his squad in Gabriel Jesus.

That is something he wants to change this summer when Haaland's release clause is live.

As a transfer fee, the £63m is a bargain as he would cost at least double that on the open market and probably more.

Real Madrid and Paris St Germain also want him but his Haaland's dad played for City and that puts them in the driving seat.

BIG DEAL:
Erling Haaland
